Over 1500 calves have been consigned to the Lynchburg Spring Feeder Sale scheduled for April 12.

Cattlemen from Appomattox consigning calves are: W. E. Bondurant, Jr., James R. Ford, Jr., E. Carter Martin, Paul Sarver.

One hundred years ago the first Angus cattle came into this country. There will be numerous celebrations during 1973 commemorating this event.

Veterans of World Wars I & II and the Korean Conflict will be interested in picking up a compact publication from this office titled, Summary of Benefits for Veterans with Military Service Before February 1, 1955 and Their Dependants.

These are times when records continue to be broken and I hesitate to even suggest a record. However, on March 16 feeder pigs at Petersburg sold for $102.50 per CWT. Will we ever see 35 pound pigs sell for $36.13 per head again?

Petersburg sold 1149 pigs that had an average weight of 57 ...unds for an average of $46.69 each. That's sure to be a tough record to beat.

E. W. and Dan Carson's will be one of the few farms in Virginia to assist in the evaluation of a new alfalfa variety.

It's a variety that has similar parentage to Team but also carries resistance to anthracnose. It carries the name Beltsville 71. If it's released, we'll probably see it under a different name. You may want to watch this variety; it's being planted adjacent to Team and Williamsburg for comparison.

Swine producers shouldn't forget that there's still a disease called Hog Cholera.

Between January 2 and February 7 2015 hogs were destroyed in two southeastern Virginia counties.

The prospective plantings for 1973 are in and the focus is on corn and soybean acreage compared to 1972. Virginia farmers indicate a 4% increase in corn and 6% increase in soybeans. Nationally corn planting intentions are up 7% and soybeans are up 14%.

Of local interest is fire cured tobacco acreage; the intention is for 6% less acreage or 4500 acreas.

Farmers want an agricultural lime that will completely react in a period of 1 to 3 years.

The time required for this kind of reaction is determined by the effective surface area. Expressed another way, it's the number of particles or fineness of grind.

Limestone that passes through a 60 mesh screen will react in 1-3 years. Stone that passes through a 20 mesh but held on a 60 mesh screen will have 60% reaction in 1-3 years. Stone held on a 20 mesh screen will have only 20% reaction in 3 years and only 50% in 12 years

When ordering limestone, ask for Ground Limestone for fastest reaction time.

CANAAN BAPTIST

The Junior Choir and other interested members met Mar. 20, 1973 and reorganized the choir, with the pastor, Rev. C. L. Elliott, presiding. The officers were elected as follows: Miss Virginia Kelso, president; Miss Frances Wood, vice-president; Miss Mary Hudson, secretary; Miss Mary Wood, assistant secretary; Miss Bernice Ackers, treasurer and Mrs. Edith Ferguson, manager.

We are asking all members to meet each Wednesday night before the second Sunday of the month for prayer service - 7:30 p.m. at the church.

Mrs. Elnora Scruggs was also elected reporter for the church for the year. She asks for your support to keep her informed of any news you would like reported.

Fashion

Denim jackets, pants and shorts of polyester and cotton are being shown for youngsters. Checked ginghams are colorful for small girls' dresses and boys' blouses.

One of the prettiest evening outfits is a two piece affair of matte jersey. The bodice is long and belted.

Heels on evening sandals are high and sturdy.

Homemakers Hints

By Rebecca M. Johnson, Extension Agent

As grocery prices go higher and higher, almost to the point of being out of reach, homemakers need to think of more economical meals to serve their families. The stew is an excellent way to satisfy your family, and may be made of left-overs or planned-overs. You can be very creative with a stew, and develop it to suit your own family taste.

Here are two stew recipes which may help your food budget.

Mulligan Stew - (This may sound familiar to those of your with 4-H'ers in the family. Remind them to watch the 4-H T.V. project, Mulligan Stew, beginning this Saturday at 9:30 on Channel 7).

Mulligan Stew

Use a heavy pan or skillet, with lid - Melt 1 tablespoon shortening - Add 1 lb. beef, cut into small pieces - Brown over medium heat - Add 1 teaspoon salt - Add 1 can tomato soup (10½ oz.) - Add 2 soup cans water - Cover tightly and let cook slowly until tender, about 1 hour - Add 3 carrots, sliced - Add 3 potatoes, cut into 4 pieces - Add 2 onions, cut into 4 pieces - Cover and continue cooking slowly about thirty minutes. If there is not enough liquid, add more water during cooking. If stew is too thin, remove lid and cook until thickened.

Brunswick Stew - (Here is another stew idea, especially loved by Virginians. Add or leave out ingredients to suit your taste)

Brunswick Stew

1 Tablespoon fat (Bacon or chicken fat) - 2 cups liquid* - 2 cups cooked or canned tomatoes - 2 cups cooked or canned lima beans - Salt and pepper to taste - 1 medium sized onion - 2 cups cooked chicken or turkey, cut-up - 2 cups cooked or canned whole kernel corn - Heat fat in a large pan, chop onion and cook in fat until tender. Add rest of ingredients. Heat. Makes 6 servings, about 1½ cups each. Canned chicken or turkey can be used or you can cook the chicken. Use boney pieces like the back and wings. Put them in a large pan. Add enough water to cover. Add 1 teaspoon salt and a dash of pepper. Put lid on pan and cook until chicken is tender - about 1 hour. Cool and remove bones.

*Use chicken or turkey broth, or liquid drained from the beans and corn, or water or a combination of these.

First Day of Spring 1973?

When Spring arrives, can Summer be far behind? We could easily argue that question in view of the fact that Appomattox got about four or five inches of snow on the first day of Spring as is in evidence in the picture above. Spring, Summer, Fall or Winter . . . the season didn't matter at all, and the wet snow that fell in Appomattox and surrounding areas clung to the trees and branches making a beautiful picture for all to enjoy.

April Designated as Cancer Control Month

Citing the conquest of cancer as a national goal, Governor Linwood Holton issued a statement today urging Virginians to support the American Cancer Society's educational and fund-raising Crusade during April.

The text of the Governor's statement is as follows:

"By Congressional and Presidential action, the conquest of cancer has been made a national goal. As many forms of cancer are curable if detected early and treated promptly, the American Cancer Society, in addition to support of vital research, alerts the public to cancer's warning signals.

"There will be about 665,000 new cancer cases among men and women of all ages and children this year; 13,000 of these will occur among Virginians. The American Cancer Society provides invaluable aid in rehabilitation services to the cancer patient and provides crucial, flexible support for both laboratory researchers and clinicians.

"The month of April has been designated CANCER CONTROL MONTH, during which period the Society will be conducting its annual educational and fund-raising Crusade. I urge all citizens to support this important effort."

"We Believe Cancer Can Be Wiped Out In Your Lifetime" is the theme of the 1973 Cancer Crusade in Virginia which is being led by State Crusade Chairman, C. Harrison Mann, Jr., an Arlington attorney. The Crusade goal for Virginia is $1,806,748.

During the month of April, which has been designated Cancer Control Month by Presidential proclamation, over 65,000 American Cancer Society volunteers in Virginia will be calling on their neighbors to leave information on the importance of an annual health checkup and to ask for contributions to the Society's programs of research, education, service and rehabilitation.

Serving as National Co-Chairmen for the Crusade are Lawrence Welk, popular band leader, and Minnie Pearl, comedienne and country music favorite.

If you'd like more stew ideas, contact the Extension Office and leave your name and address. Don't forget-any economical meal must also be nutritious, or it's not good economy. Never neglect good nutrition, no matter how good a bargain it may seem!

What About SEAT BELTS?
Are they desirable as a safety measure?
Here is what one of the largest, oldest and most successful insurance companies says on the subject:
The Travelers Insurance Company, who wrote the first automobile liability insurance policy, thinks so well of seat belts that; if you own one of their Family automobile policies with medical coverage, they will double the medical coverage at no extra cost should you have an injury in an automobile accident and your seat belt was fastened.
Get in the habit of fastening your seat belt as soon as you get in your car.
The record shows that most accidents occur in 25 miles of home.

It does not serve well the public interest for an elected representative in this country to use his position and a situation as vital to all the people as this to mislead the people.

History is replete with instances where a small, well-led group has grasped control. Lenin used the concept of a strategic minority to gain control of Russia's government. Within our own country, a trade union and a political party were captured with the same tactic. Do not forget, either, that our own Revolution against George III was planned and directed by a small, but dedicated band of patriots.

What is so very distressing about the Navy's problems is that these are not matters which can be considered in isolation – the potential for disaster is too vast. Campus rebellions are, by and large, confined to the campus. Inner-city riots do physical damage only to the city. When an administration building or a courthouse burns, it is distressing, but when our nation's enemies perceive a breakdown within an organization upon which we rely for defense, the stage is set for an international holocaust.

There is no way around it: military orders must be obeyed. Discipline must be maintained. Well it may be to abandon "mickey mouse" regulations which serve no useful purpose. But a regulation is not mickey mouse when it instills in the men who must perform a duty the quick reaction to do what they are told to do, when they are told to do it. Discipline must guarantee an instantaneous response to an order. An armed force without discipline is an armed mob. If we fail to deal with mutiny, riot, and sabotage realistically and firmly, and continue to make excuses to ourselves, we could become victims of a more serious attack, clouded by our own delusions.

It is imperative that discipline be reinstituted in our armed services, and it must be imposed through strong leadership, not through third parties, by whatever name. Discipline is vital for survival. The habit of obeying orders must be fundamental. Its absence in combat conditions can well mean the difference between life and death. Servicemen must be instilled with the habit of obeying orders from superiors. To relax such a habit in the barracks may well lead to its abandonment on the battlefield or aboard ship. Behavior parameters must be set for all servicemen and the consequences of exceeding those parameters must be explicit, fair, and swift.

The vast majority of Navy men and women are performing their assigned duties loyally and efficiently. I am fully aware and appreciative of their efforts. The cause for concern, however, rests with the segment of the naval force which is either unable or unwilling to function within the prescribed limitations and up to the established standards of performance or conduct. I commend the military for those programs which are designed to improve service life and yet maintain good order and discipline through the traditional channels of authority.

We will find solutions to these problems. We will do it because we must, and because the collective American character is such that, once presented with a problem, it will seek and find a workable solution.

What Girl Scouting Means

Not too many years ago Girl Scouting was thought of as a recreational program or sometimes even as a club for girls – and mostly middle-class girls at that. Now, the Girl Scouts don't quite know how a rumor like that got started, or how it got so firmly planted in the minds of the general public. But this they do know! They are launching an all-out campaign to tell people the real Girl Scout story as it is today.

Some 20,000 girls, men, and women in the Virginia Skyline Girl Scout Council give hundreds of hours of active service in their communities each year. They have worked in every possible area giving service – in schools, hospitals, mental hospitals, with the blind., and other physically-handicapped persons. They work in day care centers, and during the summer they hold day camps for the underprivileged.

During the major floods that have occurred in the past few years, the Girl Scouts pitched right in along with everyone else. They collected everything from clothing, furniture, food, and toys to pots and pans. They cleaned and scrubbed; and in several instances, completely rebuilt and refurbished homes for elderly people in their area.

For several years the Girl Scout Program has focused on Ecology. Along with picking up tons of litter, recycling, and annually working on beautification projects, they conduct ecological workshops on environmental education with top-ranking people in this field.

Other pertinent training sessions are given by key people in areas such as Drug Abuse, Sex Education, Social Problems, Public Relations, and numerous other relevant subjects.

As members of 26 United Way Agencies in the 36½ counties that the Council covers, Girl Scouts must prove their worth to the man on the street who gives his hard-earned money that helps support their Council. Not only do they do this, but they, too, support the United Way Campaigns in their individual communities by giving financially and through various services.

This year marks the 61st Anniversary of Girl Scouting in the U. S. A. They haven't changed too much. The basic principles are the same, only the times have changed; but the Girl Scouts keep right abreast of it all. They care, they're concerned, and they do something about it.

They do indeed personify their new triennium theme, "Today's Vision – Tomorrow's World".

Know the Weather

What are the ingredients which cause tornadoes? Do they sometimes occur in clear weather, in a cloudless sky? Does dry or moist air prove more conducive to tornado development?

If the day is clear, especially clear with dry air, you need worry little about tornadoes – as long as this condition holds.

The weather condition which should give cause for concern is one in which squalls or thunderstorms are frequent–especially when the approach of a cold front is expected. If the air is moist and conditions unsettled, in spring or early summer, these weather signs should be seriously heeded as possible breeders of a tornado, or tornadoes.

Tornadoes – contrary to the popular belief – sometimes occur out of season. But in the winter they are rare. Because stronger updrafts occur in the skies in daylight, tornadoes most often develop then, but they can and do form at night, too.

Red Cross Month, 1973

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

Each year, in the spirit of good neighborliness, millions of Americans pool their resources and efforts under the Red Cross banner to help others in distress or need.

The services of the Red Cross assist many kinds of people. They help provide lifesaving blood for the ill and injured; help restore the shattered lives of disaster victims; help our servicemen, veterans, and their families in periods of emergency; and help save lives and lessen suffering through training in first aid, water safety, and simple nursing skills.

While these could be called the basic purposes of the Red Cross, the organization also seeks out new areas of concern in American life. The Red Cross has helped the elderly to obtain government food assistance, the veteran to readjust to civilian life, the drug abuser to seek help, the migrant worker to better his living standards, and the student to obtain tutoring assistance.

Although the Red Cross receives the cooperation of many Federal, State, and local agencies, it derives its major financial support from the voluntary contributions of the American people. During the past year the Red Cross has been operating under an especially heavy financial burden because of outlays for disaster relief following the flood in Rapid City, South Dakota, and the Hurricane Agnes tragedy. I urge every American to help ensure that the Red Cross has the funds and volunteer manpower to fulfill its responsibilities during the year ahead. Helping the Red Cross—the Good Neighbor—continue its wide range of assistance programs is one way in which each of us can help our communities and our country.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, RICHARD NIXON, President of the United States of America and Honorary Chairman of the American National Red Cross, do hereby designate March 1973 as Red Cross Month, a month when every citizen is asked to join, serve, and contribute.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this third day of March, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred seventy-three, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred ninety-seventh.

Richard Nixon
